

STATUE TO WOMAN TRIBUTE INSPIRED BY MOTHERS' DAY

Idea Adopted at Memorial
Association Meeting
In New York.

With the observance today of "Mothers' Day," plans will be launched to erect a statue in Washington as tribute from American Mothers to America's womanhood. The idea was adopted yesterday in New York by the Great Mother Memorial Association, with headquarters at the Hotel Astor. James Van Dyke, the sculptor, has designed the model.

Austin R. Fletcher, of New York, is treasurer and Frederick W. M. Heller, of the Bush Terminal, executive secretary. Honorary posts have been offered President Harding and Vice President Coolidge.

Mothers' Day will be generally observed in Washington, with special services in churches, when pastors will preach on the heroic qualities displayed by mothers. Some will observe the day by wearing bouquets and sending messages, flowers and gifts.

Since the day was established by Congress in 1914, its popularity has increased every year. This is shown by the hundreds of telegrams sent to and from the Washington offices of the telegraph companies and also by the heavy mails yesterday.

In many Washington churches prayers will be offered for the Christian mothers of Armenia, Syria and Persia, who are looking to the mothers of America for aid. A Mother's Day program will be held in front of the Mount Vernon Place M. E. church today at 4:30 by the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. Representative M. Clyde Kelly, of Pennsylvania, will be the speaker. The Boy Scout band will play sacred music from 4 until 4:30.

Soldiers Write Home.
Every soldier in the service is asked to write a letter to his mother today.

Secretary of War Weeks telegraphed all post commanders yesterday, instructing them to call the attention of officers and enlisted men to the fact that today is Mother's Day. It is his desire, the Secretary said, that each man write a letter home as an expression of the life and reverence we owe to the mothers of the country.

CHAMBER FAVORS TAX EXEMPTION

Committee Indorses Calder's
Proposal Applying to Dwellings.

Senator Calder's proposal that all buildings erected for dwelling purposes, with the exception of hotels, which are completed by July, 1922, be exempted from taxation for a period of five years was indorsed last night by the committee on law and legislation of the Washington Chamber of Commerce.

The bill recently introduced by Representative Fitzgerald providing compulsory compensation for workmen of the District was referred to a committee composed of Walter C. Balderson, chairman; E. C. Graham, Louis H. Warner, George H. Maynard and M. A. Lee.

A request that the Chamber take up the matter of cable communication between this country and France was referred back as being out of the jurisdiction of the Chamber.

only in Washington but in the public print, was without any support from the membership, and was organized propaganda of a self-confessed coterie of interested parties, attituded coterie of the organization, the prestige of the organization for its own partisan purposes. The committee is hearing constantly and from all directions, favorable comment on the change from foreign valuations to American valuations and finds a greater satisfaction in the realization that as the matter is better understood, it has struck a note which is in complete harmony with intelligent patriotic public sentiment.

The unbiased views expressed by Mr. Hoover at the hearing were of special significance and carry much weight on account of Mr. Hoover's broad experience, sound judgment and unquestioned sincerity of purpose. Mr. Hoover stated without qualification that he saw no alternative to the proposed plan to assure ad valorem duties on American values.

Seaman Kills "Buddie" In Fight With Police

NORFOLK, Va., May 7.—Trying to liberate his pal who was under arrest, George Bud Miller, 18-year-old sailor, last night killed his friend instead, and is himself now held on the charge of murder. The dead man is J. S. Woods, seaman, second-class, a member of the crew of the U. S. submarine E-1.

The officer had placed Woods under arrest. "You turn 'em loose or I'll kill you," Miller told the policeman. In the scuffle, the sailor, the officer claims, shot a pistol and the bullet struck the prisoner in the breast.

CADET TRIO "SNAP INTO IT"

(Copyright, Underwood and Underwood.)

Included among yesterday's "callers" on President Harding were a trio of officers of the Washington High School Cadets, who "snapped into it" like seasoned campaigners when they were presented to the Chief Executive. After being received by the youthful officers were photographed with the President. They are: Col. R. C. Ludlum, Lieut. Col. J. H. Broadbunt and Lieut. Col. B. F. Simon.

Robinson's Circus Comes Today, Showing Tomorrow and Tuesday; Autos Needed for Wounded Vets

The sound of the callings is scheduled for Washington at noon today. It means, of course, the circus has come to town—John Robinson with his clowns, elephants, and camels.

The doors of the matinee performance at 2 o'clock will be opened an hour earlier to afford visitors an opportunity to visit the circus zoo and hear the Robinson band concert. The show opens with "Birth of the Rainbow," a spectacular and extravagant empyrean employing 600 people and 400 animals. A three-ring, two-stage arena performance follows.

Big Lizzie Shimmies.
Evidencing the ultra-modernness of the Robinson show is "Lizzie," an elephant that "shimmies." One of the interesting numbers is a barber shop scene in which one of the largest of the herds combs the hair of a five-ton customer. The clowns are headed by Johnny Ludlow, Jr., son of John Robinson himself. Assisting Ludlow are forty-nine other well known chalk-face stars.

Get Out Your Autos.
The Herald will see to it that the wounded heroes are admitted to the big show, but the problem of transporting the men must be met, and The Herald is confident it will be met by the generous and patriotic-minded of the city. The solution is simple—if you possess a machine, let The Herald know it. Conveyances for 250 are needed for the men, so that they will reach the show-grounds at 2 p. m. for the matinee performance. Those who are willing to lend their machines for the brief time required are requested to get in touch with the City Desk of The Herald; call Main 3300.

John Robinson and his coterie of 1,200 performers, 400 arena stars, with 50 clowns; animals of every description and sufficiently numerous to fill several good-sized zoos, will unload at Benning station this morning.

The exhibition grounds will be at 15th and H streets northeast. Proceeding to the performance tomorrow, starting at 10 a. m., the mammoth parade, without which no circus is complete, will take place.

A feature of the parade will be a ladies' bugle corps on thoroughbred horses. Seven bands and three callioles will add with circus day.

Can of Alcohol On Street Corner Is Almost Hidden

The paradox that the way to hide a thing is to hide it was vindicated yesterday afternoon when a three-gallon can of denatured alcohol, standing at Twenty-fifth and F streets northwest and exposed to the view of thousands who pass it, aroused little suspicion and would have remained unnoticed had not Patrolman Jacobson, of the Fourth precinct, ventured in the neighborhood.

Jacobson's curiosity was stirred. He discovered that the can had been abandoned several hours previously by a colored man. The alcohol is now in the charge of the police of the Fourth precinct.

Starving Miners Kill Cow to Feed Families

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 7.—The first arrests growing out of the desolation in the Alabama coal fields were reported today. Three miners at Helena, Alabama, were lodged in jail for killing a cow. According to union reports, the men and their families had been without food and in desperation, they killed a cow in the woods and were skinning it when arrested.

A solid carload of food, consisting chiefly of corn meal, meat and flour, left Birmingham this morning for Blocton, Alabama, to be distributed in the coal camps of that section to destitute miners.

Mosby Rangers' Reunion Is Addressed by Upshaw

MANASSAS, Va., May 7.—Featuring the annual reunion of the Forty-third Battalion of Virginia Cavalry, Mosby's Rangers, held here today, was the address of Congressman W. D. Upshaw, of Georgia, who took as his subject, "Southern Loyalty a National Inspiration."

On account of the bad condition of the roads to the old Manassas battlefields the morning and afternoon programs were combined.

Married Last December.
LYNCHBURG, Va., May 7.—Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Overstreet, of Bedford, have just announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Pearl Overstreet, to John E. Catlin, the ceremony having been performed in Norfolk, December 28 last by Rev. J. L. Riddick.

The recent extension of the franchise in Sweden now gives that country more women voters than men.

JOHNSON REPEATS CHARGE AGAINST DAVID H. BLAIR

North Carolinian Denies
He Broke State Primary Law.

Investigation of Senator Johnson's charges against David H. Blair, of North Carolina, recently nominated by President Harding to be internal revenue commissioner, was begun yesterday by the Senate Finance Committee behind closed doors.

The witnesses yesterday were Senator Johnson, Blair himself, John Morehead, Republican "boss" of North Carolina, and officials of the income tax section of the Internal Revenue Bureau.

Tells of Tax Scandal.
Senator Johnson declared that Blair, a delegate to the Republican National Convention at Chicago last June, ignored the North Carolina primary law. He also told the committee that the amount of mail he was receiving from North Carolina since he made charges against Blair indicated that the efforts of Blair's family to escape payment of income taxes were "a State-wide scandal."

Blair denied the charge that he broke the law. He insisted that he never heard the results of the primary election in North Carolina while he was attending the Chicago convention. He admitted, however, that the North Carolina delegation went to the convention prepared to vote without regard to the outcome of the primary.

Defends Delegates' Action.
Morehead testified that the North Carolina delegation held a meeting at Chicago during the convention week to discuss the primary results. He contended that the action of the North Carolina delegates was not a violation of the primary law. He said the delegates were committed to J. W. Cannon, Blair's father-in-law, had filed a claim with the income tax section for a refund of $350,000 on income taxes. This claim, they stated, would be denied. The incoming commissioner, they contended, would not pass on the case.

The hearing will be resumed Thursday, when it is probable Secretary Mellon will be heard.

SERVICES HELD FOR 1,225 SOLDIER-DEAD

Honor Paid to Consignment of Bodies Returned from France.

HOBOKEN, N. J., May 7.—Final honors were paid today to 1,225 American soldiers who gave up their lives in France.

"It is fitting," Maj. Gen. Summerall said during the services, "that these men should return to their native land that they may be an inspiration to our people to be worthy of them."

The funeral services were held in the dining pier of the army transport service here. Thirty caskets, draped with American flags, flanked the speakers' stand. Stretching down the sides of the long pier lay hundreds of others, each with its flag, all under honor guard.

The bodies arrived yesterday on the transport Somme and will be sent to their former homes as rapidly as arrangements are completed with relatives of the dead. Most of the men were from the First Division. Among them were the remains of Col. Bertram T. Clayton, Col. Hamilton A. Smith, Lieut. John M. Craig and Maj. Edwin R. Kimble.

Mrs. W. Waltheur, sister of Col. Clayton sat in the speakers' stand. Others there were Maj. Gen. Robert L. Bullard, Maj. Gen. Grover Hatcher, Sen. Col. John J. Bradley and Col. George H. Penrose. Classmates of Col. Clayton, graduates of 1884 from West Point, were Maj. Gen. A. D. Andrews, Col. Charles D. Dwyer, Col. Samuel Reber and Col. Frank L. Winn.

The bodies will be removed as soon as possible to make room for the next consignment from France. Six thousand bodies were reported en route on the transport Wheaton.

LOWLOW IS CHIEF OF CLOWNS

"Yep! That is the way we make them laugh." Johnny Lowlow, chief funmaker for the John Robinson Circus, which opens up tomorrow at Fifteenth and H streets northeast, is telling the canine with the "Victor Dog" expression just how and why he produces laughs from circus crowds all over the country. Johnny follows in the footsteps of his father, who amused thousands more than fifty years ago for the Robinson Circus. Lowlow heads a group of fifty of the foremost clowns in the business, and is prepared to amuse the crowds tomorrow at the show grounds.

Mrs. Harding and Gen. Pershing Bring Joy to Girl Scouts by Personally Greeting Each One

Mrs. Harding put thrills in the heart of every Girl Scout present at the rally held in Memorial Continental Hall yesterday afternoon as she graciously receiving each one after the scheduled ceremonies were over.

"Most wonderful rally I was ever to, or ever 'spect to be to," enthused a little scout.
"Yes, for we don't give medals to Mrs. Hardin' every day an' shake hands with her an' have Gen. Pershing salute us," rejoined her companion.

Were Spoken.
These two good, pretty little Scouts unconsciously were spokesmen for the whole delegation that assembled for this mammoth rally. The vari-colored flags of the different patrols gave a festive touch to Continental Hall, which was enlivened by music of the Marine Band. Mrs. Arthur O. Choate, president of the national organization, welcomed the Scouts and their guests, after which Mrs. Harding was presented with a medal by the Girl Scouts, thus conferring upon her the honorary presidency of their organization.

In a brief speech Mrs. Lars Anderson presented the Edith Cavell medal to Mrs. Crowell. Several beautiful American flags were presented the Girl Scouts by Mrs. George Maynard Minor, president of the D. A. R.

Gen. Pershing awarded to each winner in the field meet held a week ago a prize of priceless value to the recipient. The General thought this was to be all—but not so, for he was also called upon to speak impromptu.

Mrs. Jane Deeter Rippen, director of the national organization, explained the work and growth of the Girl Scout movement throughout the world. She said that an average of 5,000 new members were being enrolled monthly.

There were a medley of songs by the Girl Scouts and tableaux illustrating various phases of what Girl Scouts are taught. After "The Star Spangled Banner" all of the Scouts went on the front steps and were photographed with Mrs. Harding and Gen. Pershing.

At the age of 21 years, Miss Norma Brown is chaplain of the Illinois Senate.
